

Florida Gulf Coast University
Creative Course Design in General Education Faculty Grant Competition
Call for Proposals

Purpose

Creative Course Design in General Education grants support faculty initiatives designed to enhance student learning and achievement within the FGCU General Education Program. These grants are intended to fund activities above and beyond regular faculty responsibilities, and to foster creativity and innovation in general education course design. Project proposals focusing on interdisciplinary content and/or teaching across disciplines are particularly encouraged.

Awards

Grant awards are in the amount of $2500 for a new course proposal or $1500 for a substantive redesign of an existing course. Award amounts are per proposal, regardless of the number of faculty applicants per proposal. Grants are competitive, and awarded at the discretion of the FGCU General Education Council.

Eligibility and Criteria

Any full-time FGCU faculty member who teaches undergraduate courses on a regular basis may apply for a Creative Course Design in General Education faculty grant. An application may be submitted by one or more individual faculty members, and must include a letter of support signed by the dean of the appropriate academic unit. In accordance with university procedure, all course additions and changes must be approved through the normal curricular review process.

A proposal may focus on developing a new General Education course, or significantly enhancing the content and pedagogy of an existing General Education course that has been taught at least three times on a regular basis. The proposal should also describe how the course will enhance student learning for one of the state-mandated General Education Subject Areas (see Attachment 1), and how it will enhance and assess student learning for at least one of the FGCU General Education Competencies (see Attachment 2).

Proposal Format and Submission

The text of the proposal should be two-four pages in length, and include the following items:

- Names for all grant applicants;
- Proposed course title, Statewide Course Numbering System (SCNS) number, and catalog description;
- Addresses one General Education Subject Area;
- Description of course objectives for enhancing student learning of the General Education Subject Area;
- Addresses at least one General Education Competency;
- Description of course objectives for enhancing student learning in each General Education Competency;
- Plan and criteria for assessing student achievement of each General Education Competency;
- Criteria for assessing student achievement of each General Education Competency;
- Description of creative and innovative course design features;
- Letter of support from the dean of the appropriate academic unit, confirming support for the new/redesigned course, and for offering it during the following academic year.

Proposals must be submitted no later than January 31, 2009 (see timetable below). Submissions must be made through one of the following faculty representatives on the General Education Council:

College of Arts and Sciences	Margaret Cavin Doug Harrison, Council Chair Eric Otto
College of Education	Dayle Upham
College of Health Professions	Halcyon St. Hill
College of Professional Studies	Scott Anstadt
Lutgert College of Business	Dean Stansel

Proposal Evaluation and Funding

All proposals will be reviewed for approval by the General Education Council using the Proposal Checklist and Evaluation Form (see Attachment 3). Grant funding is provided by the Office of the General Education Program Director. No applications will be accepted after 5:00 p.m. on the deadline date listed below.
