

MASTER OF SCIENCE HEALTH SCIENCE

GRADUATE STUDIES

Program Description

The Master of Science (M.S.) in Health Science program prepares students to serve as health care leaders in advanced professional roles. Graduates acquire skills in planning, developing and implementing innovative, quality health care services. This program provides electives focusing on health education and/or health administration, allowing students to expand their knowledge and skills needed to teach and train students, clients, patients, and health care consumers or to excel as a manager or department head in health services administration. Additional information is available at <https://www.fgcu.edu/mariebcollege/healthsciences/healthscience-ms.aspx>

Admissions Requirements
