

DOCTOR OF EDUCATION

GRADUATE STUDIES

Program Description

The Doctor of Education (EdD) program emphasizes the growth of educational professionals as they focus on organizational management and effectiveness issues, and the development, implementation and evaluation of curricula. Graduates will possess the capacity to provide the leadership necessary to meet ever-changing educational and organizational goals. This degree is designed to provide leaders, policy makers and researchers with the knowledge, skills and dispositions needed to design and implement strategies that improve practice and outcomes in educational organizations. The program is designed for working professionals. Candidates typically take two classes each semester, completing coursework in about four years, followed by a dissertation. Additional information is available at <https://www.fgcu.edu/coe/programs/graduateprograms/doctor-education-edd>.

Admissions Requirements
