

MASTER OF ARTS Curriculum & Instruction: EDUCATIONAL TECHNOLOGY

GRADUATE STUDIES

Program Description

Master of Arts (MA) in C & I: Educational Technology is a virtual program (all classes taught online) that provides advanced study in education and training for those in K-12, higher education, government, business and industry environments. The courses are designed to take into consideration student's goals and area of interest, including instructional design, instructional technology and educational media. Students who wish to obtain a professional teaching certificate will need to take additional courses. Additional information is available at <https://www.fgcu.edu/coe/programs/graduateprograms/educational-technology-ma>

Admissions Requirements

- FGCU graduate application
- Official academic transcripts from every college or university attended
- Baccalaureate degree from a regionally accredited institution
- Three letters of recommendation from professionals in the field
- GPA of 3.0 or higher on a 4.0 scale in the last 60 hours of undergraduate coursework
- In person, phone or virtual interview
- International students must have a satisfactory score on the TOEFL exam (minimum score of 550 paper-based, 213 computer-based, or 79 internet-based) for students from countries where English is not the primary language
- Performance in courses taken post-baccalaureate will be taken into consideration for admission
- GRE or MAT is not required for consideration. However, if the GPA falls below the required 3.0, other substantiating evidence of scholarship, including reporting test scores, may be requested

Satisfaction of minimum University and program requirements does not guarantee admission to a graduate program. Applicants should check with the program for the most up to date admission requirements prior to commencing the application process.
