

VERIFICATION OF ATTENDANCE IN CANVAS (VAC)

Federal Financial Aid regulations require the confirmation of attendance in order for students to receive financial aid. The confirmation of attendance is achieved by students completing an academic activity through the Canvas Learning Management System by the end of the first week of classes. Failure to do so will result in a delay in the disbursement of financial aid to students. This confirmation is required for all students. The academically related activity should remain open throughout the term to ensure that students whose financial aid is delayed are able to complete the activity/assignment and receive a late disbursement.

The Financial Aid Office confirms each student's academic activity and verifies student attendance through the Canvas Learning Management System. It is the student's responsibility to complete the activity by the due date assigned.

Creating Activities in Canvas to Verify Attendance

In Canvas, you may choose to have students complete a quiz/survey, a discussion, or submit an assignment (Note: Do not use a Turnitin assignment). If you do not already have one of the activity types in your course for students to complete during week 1, you may develop a new activity, import a ready-to-use Verification of Attendance activity from Canvas Commons, or contact your instructional designer for assistance. To help students locate the assignment, name the assignment "Attendance Verification" and place it in the first module that appears in your Canvas course.

Syllabus Statement

It may be helpful to add a statement to your syllabus explaining this policy (this is not required). Suggested wording:

All faculty members are required to use Canvas to confirm a student's attendance for each course by the end of the first week of classes. Failure to do so will result in a delay in the disbursement of your financial aid. The confirmation of attendance is required for all students, not only those receiving financial aid.
