General Information

As a US citizen and a Florida resident 60 years of age or older, you may attend Florida Gulf Coast University undergraduate courses tuition-free on an audit basis, if space is available. Florida Residency for tuition or waiver purposes is attained when you have lived in the state of Florida for twelve (12) consecutive months immediately prior to the first day of classes. Three forms of identification are required to verify Florida residency. Your Florida Driver's license, your Florida Voter's identification card, and vehicle registration(s) are documents required for review at the time of registration. Please contact our office for other acceptable state official documents.

Classroom space for Senior Citizen 60+ students audit registration is based on availability after degree seeking students' registration has passed. If a course is full, verbal communication from an instructor is not sufficient to register in a course. A signature from your instructor(s) will be needed on your Senior Citizen Tuition Waiver form to be registered. This form will need to be brought to the Office of the Registrar during the first week of classes of any term with one form of ID.

Courses are held at the location indicated in the online class schedule on GULFLINE. Since space is limited, please plan alternatives to your first choices. All of the courses offered during a term by FGCU are found on the Course Schedule link on GULFLINE (<http://gulflines.fgcu.edu>). For a clear description of the course, click on the link under Gulflines titled Course Description.

You can obtain your parking decal from Parking Services, conveniently located in McTarnaghan Hall 142. Note: Outstanding tickets prevent enrollment.

Student ID

Senior Citizen 60+ students are required to have a FGCU Eagle ID card. You can obtain your ID, once you are registered. There is no fee as it is included in your waived fees. The Student ID Office is located in the Cohen Center building Suite 137.

Auditing Etiquette

To audit means to listen. The extent of participation in classroom discussion will be established by the individual instructor. The interests of the tuition-paying students must remain primary.

When auditing a class, please be courteous and considerate of the students who are taking the class for credit.

Please do not invite or encourage guest(s) to attend classes with you.
